Welcome and Opening Comments: Supervisor/Board Chair Upthegrove introduced himself and made comments about the history and outlook for the King County Flood Control District. His goals for the District for this year are: (1). Be a better environmental partner and align with the county’s environmental values; (2). Ensure that all parts of the county receive a fair return on investment, including three new grant programs for urban streams, culvert replacement, and coastal erosion; (3). Improve the transparency of the budget process (all meetings of the Board and Executive Committee will be televised and recorded, all votes will be recorded, the Board will take up more issues that in the past would have been considered by the Executive Committee, the budget will be presented to the Advisory Committee that will then make its recommendation to the Board, and proposed amendments to the budget will be publicly shared before the vote. He also hopes to meet with all members of the Advisory Committee individually.

Councilmember Barksdale asked about the allocation of funds to get projects done. Chair Upthegrove replied that project delivery is the focus of the District and last year King County met 97% of its expected project delivery goals. Staffing, not money, is the limiting factor for the District and the mid-year budget includes funds for another strike team. The long-term funding need is significant, but in the short term there is a big reserve. The District might consider reducing the levy rate in planning for next year.

Councilmember Stearns asked about fish culverts. The Chair indicated that the new grant program will help but it is a drop in the bucket relative to need. The Chair plans to share the program proposal for the grant program with the Advisory Committee for its thoughts.

Mr. Hearing asked whether the Board was taking the 1% property tax increase each year. The Chair indicated that the Board does not anticipate taking the 1% (and has not taken it in last three years). There are other funding options, including bonding projects if there is a need for immediate construction funding.
Mayor Larson: suggested increasing funding to complete more projects. This is a good time to do capital projects. The Chair agreed that delivering projects is key, but there is not consensus among the Board. Strike teams are one way to get projects done.

Mayor Ralph: thanked the Chair for his thoughtfulness about the District’s goals.

Mayor Moran: thanked the Chair for meeting with her in Sammamish.
